Town clinic plan is 'hospital on cheap'

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A NEW walk-in health clinic planned for Haverhill has been branded "a hospital on the cheap" which would damage the town's existing doctors' practices.

Those were the fears expressed at a meeting of Haverhill Town Council on Tuesday night.

Suffolk NHS Primary Care Trust (PCT) representatives were present to give details of plans to create the county's first walk-in clinic in Haverhill. It would be funded by around £800,000 in central Government cash and could be open by April next year.

The plan has already sparked controversy, with news of the clinic coming shortly after a petition, signed by 10,000 local residents, was handed into the House of Commons, opposing proposed cuts of almost £300,000 to the budgets of the town's three GP practices.

Protesters were told that the cuts were necessary to make healthcare funds more equitable across the PCT area, and that no extra cash was available for the town.

Speaking at the council meeting, Councillor Tony Woodward said: "Everything is being pushed through so quickly, are we sure the right decision is being made?"

"A lot of money would be spent on this and in my personal view it would be a hospital on the cheap."

Cllr Tim Marks, a member of Suffolk County and St Edmundsbury Borough councils, said he could see no additional facilities which would be provided at the centre which were not already available in the town.

The Weekly News £40,000 St Nicholas Hospice at Home appeal is off to a flying start, raising more than £5,000 in its first month alone.

Many of the donations have come from small community groups and individuals who have been raising money for the appeal, which will help fund local hospice care in and around Haverhill, saving patients the need to travel to the hospice in Bury St Edmunds. Now it's the turn of local businesses. This week, Weekly News reporter Jo Deeks has been hitting the streets, distributing posters to local retailers, urging them, and their customers, to back the appeal. She is pictured with Sonia Humphrey, left, from Sonia's hair salon, who is backing the appeal.

Local traders urged to raise appeal cash

GENEROUS readers have raised a bumper £5,000 for the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal in just over a month.

And now we are looking for members of the local business community to lend their support.

Weekly News reporter Jo Deeks visited Sonia's salon in Queen Street, Haverhill, this week to start distributing posters publicising the £40,000 appeal.

The money will mean patients in and around Haverhill can receive hospice services in their own homes, rather than travelling to the Bury St Edmunds-based hospice.

We are asking as many local companies as possible to put up a poster and back the appeal in any way that they can.

Sonia Humphrey has been running her hair and beauty business in Haverhill for the past 18 years. She has supported many charities over the years and was happy to be one of the first to display the poster.

She said: "I think it is fantastic that the Weekly News is doing this and hope everyone will support the charity."

"We do quite a bit of fundraising for charity here and although I have not personally been affected by the work of the hospice, a lot of my customers have and cannot speak too highly of it."

The Haverhill Chamber of Commerce helped get the appeal off to a flying start by donating £1,700 left over from fundraising at its first business awards in 2005. President Paul Donno is urging local companies to get behind the appeal too.

He said: "We are pleased that the Weekly News is supporting the hospice and that the money will be spent in Haverhill."

■ BINGO! . . . Dolly Church, front, and other residents at Westbourne Court helped raise £200 for the appeal.

■ Elsewhere in the town, senior citizens have been making their own contribution to the appeal.

Sadie Miller, 87, along with fellow Westbourne Court residents Dolly Church, Margaret Mayes and Lillian Thorncroft, handed over £200 to hospice fundraiser Ian Norris this week. The money was raised from bingo session proceeds and donations.

The ladies have been holding regular bingo sessions and other fundraising sessions at the sheltered housing complex for some time and have raised hundreds of pounds for various charities.

Another £100 was given from donations in memory of former resident Vi Spear, who died in January.

Pat Spring, manager at Westbourne Court, said: "They were going to give it to Cancer Research, but when they read in the paper about your appeal they thought they would rather give it for something in Haverhill. They all think it is a great idea."

Shops, companies or organisations who want to back our appeal can collect a poster from our office in Queen Street, and anyone who is planning an event to support it can contact us on (01440) 703891 and we'll help publicise it for you.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help. Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your fundraising event to make sure it is a success. Call Jo Deeks on (01440) 703891.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842. An online donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Waste site new hours

SUMMER opening hours at the household waste recycling centres across Suffolk will come into effect on Tuesday, and run until September 30. All the centres, including the one at Coupals Road, Haverhill, will be open every day from 8am until 6pm.

Easter egg boxes and the shaped plastic packaging can be put in the recycling bin. Clean foil can also be recycled, as long as it is not plasticised. For more details about the waste centres phone 08456 066067 or go to www.suffolkrecycling.org.uk

Trailer stolen

A TRAILER with a punctured tyre has been stolen. The Ifor Williams trailer with a front winch, marked "Bradley" was stolen from Harp Lane, Clare between 6pm on Saturday and 8am on Tuesday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Ryan Harris at Clare police on (01284) 774100.

Thieves take tools

POWER tools were stolen from a vehicle left in a parking bay in Haverhill. Offenders broke into a white Ford Maverick at Bishops Court between 11pm on Friday and 7am on Saturday by smashing a window. Anyone with information should call Pc Hylton Garrick at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Helpers step forward to rescue U3A

A THRIVING community group has been saved from the brink of closure after new committee members stepped in to keep it going.

More than 100 people turned out for the University of the Third Age's AGM at Haverhill Arts Centre, after a warning from retiring chairman Aldine Horrigan that it could be forced to fold unless new volunteers were willing to serve on the committee.

Although the group has 230 members, no-one had come forward to volunteer before the AGM, and most of the existing members, including Mrs Horrigan, had served the maximum three year period.

Fortunately, Jan Howley agreed to be the new chairman and four more committee members came forward to replace those stepping down.

Mrs Horrigan said: "It took a struggle, but we have enough new committee members to continue and we seem to be operating quite well again."

"With 230 members I was surprised that no-one had come forward who had experience of doing that kind of thing before."

At the annual meeting, the group also decided to hold a collection for the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home

Appeal, which is aiming to raise £40,000 so the Bury St Edmunds-based hospice can provide services for patients in the Haverhill area in their own homes.

Mrs Horrigan said the collection was very well supported and another one would soon be held at the bridge group.

She said: "We always try to support community efforts and we thought this was a wonderful way to support the hospice."

"Quite a few of our members have used it so we get a lot of feedback and there has never been a bad word said about it. They do a marvellous job."

Estate's post office marked for closure

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL'S MP has vowed to fight the closure of a busy post office on Haverhill's Chalkstone estate.

Richard Spring said he was disappointed to learn of plans to close the post office in Strasbourg Square.

The village post office in Cowlinge has also been earmarked for closure.

Mr Spring said the owner of the Chalkstone post office had invested a lot of money in his business and did not want to lose the post office outlet.

Mr Spring said: "I think that it would be very damaging to that part of Haverhill and I shall be opposing the closure vigorously."

"The idea that the losses of the Post Office nationally have anything to do with the Chalkstone sub post office is preposterous. They have just taken a red line on a map, which is very disappointing."

"This has been done so secretly, when it should be based on a detailed consideration of the viability of each post office. They should be increasing what is available to sell and enlarging post offices like the one on the Chalkstone estate."

"I urge people to make their views known during the six-week consultation period."

The owner of the store declined to comment.

Pamela Bowers, 70, has run the village post office in Cowlinge for the past 30 years. She expected to know by June or July whether it would close later this year.

She said: "I will be sad if it does go, but I don't know yet whether people will try to keep it open. We open four days a week and we are not as busy as we were years ago."

"People go out to work and have their money paid into the bank and you can buy stamps everywhere."

Mr Spring met Post Office officials last week to plead the case against closures. He has now been told that if the eight post offices set for closure in his constituency go ahead, there would be no more in West Suffolk before 2011.

Teddies take a stroll in the park

SOME teddies and their young owners managed to get out in the park for a picnic before the rain came along to spoil their fun last Thursday.

'Clinic would run round the clock all year'

He said: "I can see nothing over and above what the existing practices provide."

"Would it not be cheaper to bring extra funding to the existing practices rather than taking away £300,000 as you are proposing. It would cost a lot less than £800,000 to simply amalgamate with what you have got here already."

Cllr Jack Anderson said: "I fail to see any additional diagnostic facilities. You are almost talking about a cottage hospital without the beds."

Alex Keep asked whether the PCT had investigated the possible negative effects the new centre could have on existing GP practices in the town.

Julian Herbert, deputy chief executive of the PCT, told the council the clinic would be open from 8am to 8pm every day of the year, a service which was not available at existing GP practices. However, it was hoped existing practices would bid to run the new centre, which could help fill the current shortfall in existing services.

Melanie Craig, of the PCT, said Haverhill had been chosen as the preferred location as it was 18 miles from the nearest hospital, had a high usage of Addenbrooke's accident and emergency department in Cambridge, had no community facilities and no overflow services to support GPs.

Public consultation will continue until April 16 on the location. If Haverhill was agreed as the preferred site, a group would be formed to decide what services should be provided there. The PCT pledged that it would be working closely with existing GPs to plan for the new centre and hoped they would bid to run it.

To comment on the plan or for more information, visit www.suffolkpct.nhs.uk/consultation or ring (01473) 770014.

■ What do you think? Is the clinic needed to provide extra services, or should the money simply be given to local practices?

Write to: Readers' Letters, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Where to put extra homes?

THOUSANDS of new homes could be built on Haverhill's doorstep.

The Government has told St Edmundsbury Borough Council that it must absorb 7,500 extra homes over the next 20 years, on top of the 500 new ones currently built in the area each year.

The council is now seeking views on whether the homes should be built in Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds, villages in between, or in a brand new settlement.

A consultation document with five options has been prepared – one of which would concentrate on Haverhill and make it the fourth, rather than fifth, largest town in Suffolk.

Ian Poole, planning policy manager for the borough, said: "We want people to put forward sites and give as much information as possible about what they would like to see there."

For more information or to comment on the plan, visit www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk or ring (01284) 757368. Consultation runs until April 25.

Families go on the hunt for big Easter surprises

CHILDREN and their parents went on a frantic search around a meadow looking for more than 500 wooden blocks which could be exchanged for Easter eggs. The annual Good Friday egg hunt in the grounds of Kedington Community Centre has been held for the past 28 years and is always popular, come rain or shine. A total of 550 blocks were hidden this year, with some special golden ones which can be exchanged for larger eggs. Meanwhile, an Easter parade was held at a village primary school so pupils could show off their decorated eggs and Easter bonnets.

All 56 pupils at Thurlow Primary School were invited to join in competitions to make decorated Easter eggs, Easter bonnets and mini Easter gardens for an end of term competition.

Their creations were then paraded in assembly in front of parents and friends, then judged by the staff.

Winners were Holly Carlton for her garden, Jade Burge for her bonnet and Emily Turner for her egg.

Pupils also enjoyed an Easter egg hunt around the school grounds.

Middle school judged 'not value for money'

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FORMER failing school has been ordered to improve because it still "does not provide value for money and is not effective".

An Ofsted inspector's report said serious weaknesses in the leadership and management at Castle Hill Community Middle School, in Haverhill, had impeded its improvement since the last inspection in 2004.

The absence of a headteacher between May and December last year had also resulted in "much turbulence and uncertainty" among the school community.

But the report noted that acting headteacher Ann Grimstone had fulfilled her role ably. She had gradually "stabilised" the school, producing early signs of improvement but they were yet to make a full impact.

The report said: "Consequently, standards attained by pupils in English, mathematics and science are well below average in Years 6 and 8, and too many pupils fail to achieve the levels of which they are capable."

"At present, there is not enough good or outstanding teaching to raise achievement. At present the school does not provide value for money and is not effective."

It added: "The school provides a supportive and caring environment for the children, an increasing number of whom have significant social and emotional needs. Leadership and management are satisfactory and improving."

■ CRITICISM . . . an Ofsted report said Castle Hill Middle School was "not effective". Headteacher Ann Grimstone said the findings were not a surprise and staff were working hard to improve.

"The governing body, which the local authority judged to be inadequate some months ago, is now effective and well focused on the school's rapid improvement."

Castle Hill is one of three middle schools in the town which face closure by 2010 under Suffolk County Council's plan to shut all middle schools in the county and change to a two-tier education system.

The school was put into special measures in 2001 when it was found to be failing its pupils, but these were removed in 2002 and a 2004 report found standards had improved.

In February this year, the school was handed a "notice to improve" in relation to pupils' achievements and standards.

Ms Grimstone said: "I think it is a very fair report. There were no shocks or surprises, we know the school we are working in and there is still a job of work to be done."

"We are committed to the school and we will continue to do the best we can for the students that are here and minimise disruption for them until the moment the school gates close."

She added: "We will continue to improve but it is a shame that the school has to close."

Housing society is among the best

A SUFFOLK landlord has been voted one of the best in East Anglia for customer satisfaction.

Latest figures show that 84 per cent of tenants were satisfied with the service they received from Suffolk Housing Society in 2007, compared to the national average of 79 per cent.

The society performed just as well in the previous survey in 2005, again receiving a 84 per cent satisfied rating.

The survey also found that 81 per cent of tenants were satisfied with the repairs and maintenance carried out on their property, again putting Suffolk Housing Society.

Steve Clarke, chief executive of the society, said: "This is excellent news and shows that we are continuing to offer a good quality service to housing society tenants in the county."

"Well done to everyone at Suffolk Housing Society for these wonderful performance results, long may this good work continue in the future."

Kedington

THE monthly meeting of Kedington Parish Council was held at the library last week with chairman Councillor Terry Wheeler presiding and welcoming councillors and a member of the public.

Apologies were received from county councillor, the Rev Karen Knight, and borough councillor Marion Rushbrook, who had reported on the ongoing consultations regarding the closure of the doctors' surgery. Consultations were still continuing between the doctors and the local primary care trust, which could go on until the end of May. In the meantime, Cllr Rushbrook had been consulting with the village store regarding delivery of prescriptions. In discussing contracts for grass cutting for the coming season, village resident Tony Farr had expressed an interest in strimming in the churchyard and cemetery, and had been in consultation with the contractors, Herald. It was agreed that Mr Farr enter into a contract with Herald, which had now confirmed it would be willing to employ him subject to the approval of the parish council and would inform him of the days it would be coming. The problem of molehills would be dealt with by the village handyman. Reporting on the March meeting of the finance committee, chairman Cllr John Cahill reported a satisfactory financial position and clerk Marion Farrant reported receiving the precept payment from the council of £40,035, made up of £30,589 precept and £9,446 in grants. It was agreed to invite Mrs Turner, accountant, to continue her work for the next financial year. It was hoped there would not be any more severe weather, as the county council had informed the parish council that it would not be delivering any more grit this year.

Thank you letters had been received from Suffolk Accident and Rescue Service for the grant of £100 and from St Nicholas Hospice for the grant of £75. An application from the Kemos Centre, based in Sudbury, had been turned down on the grounds that it did not directly benefit local people.

It was agreed a plaque should be attached to the Millennium Oak in the churchyard, grown from an acorn by John Brett and which is still thriving. A plaque was promised at the time of planting.

The clerk reported that the crossing supervisor had been approached by the Ketton Early Birds Playgroup to commence work at 8am, rather than 8.20am, from April 7 to accommodate children using the new breakfast club before school.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Cllr Wheeler gave notice that although he would continue as a councillor, he would not be putting his name forward to continue as chairman at the AGM. Thanks were expressed for his full commitment to the council during his period as chairman.

■ In somewhat stormy conditions, the 28th annual Easter Egg Hunt, organised by the local CB club, was held at the community centre and Great Meadow on Good Friday afternoon, for which some 600 entry tickets were sold. This was only slightly down on last year's number, held on a very warm afternoon in April.

During the morning, members concealed over 500 grey wooden cubes around the meadow and hedgerow, for which the finder qualified for an Easter egg, and six green cubes, for which the finder received a large boxed egg. Small eggs for disappointed young children who failed to find a cube were kindly donated by Kedington Newsagents.

Winners of the large boxed eggs were: Richard Tasker, Amber Davis, Francesca Darville, B Smith, Sidney Smith and Tracy Faircloth.

Involved in the organisation, and hiding the cubes, were Mick and Barbara Robinson, Chris and Margaret Turner, Stuart and Paula Isaacs, Tony Lacy, Johnny and Barbara Brown, Tony and Margaret Dobson, Peter and Julie Fox, Ben Loader, Jason Dobson and Chris Bedford.

The large raffle was organised by Peter Fox, who also voiced thanks to all helpers and supporters of the event.

■ Kedington and District Branch of the Royal British Legion (RBL) is organising another social evening at the Legion Hall this Friday from 8pm until midnight. Entertainment will be provided by Mike Hearn. Tickets are £5, including buffet.

■ Diary – Monday, March 31: RBL Bingo, Legion Hall, 8pm. Tuesday, April 1: monthly meeting of the Garden Society, Legion Hall, 7.30pm, speaker Trevor Wilson, a retired head gardener, on the subject of Cambridge college gardens.

■ On Sunday, April 6, a "Clobber Clearout" is being planned in aid of church funds from 2-6pm.

Just put your clobber in your garage or back or front garden and inform Mary Upton at the post office, or Rose Driscoll at 36 Westward Deals or (01440) 764756 of your name and address to be included on a map and list of participants, which will be on sale at the post office for 50p, pointing the way to a bargain.

■ Kedington Church is planning a book sale in the church on Saturday, May 3, from 11am to 4pm.

Anyone who wants to donate books can leave them in the church.

Deadline looms for CB9 awards

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

JUDGES are lining up to choose the winners of this year's CB9 Business Awards, organised by Haverhill Chamber of Commerce in association with the Weekly News.

Members of the judging panel will be: Matthew Darroch Thompson, business advisor for MENTA (Mid Anglian Enterprise Agency); Lina Hogg, president of the Suffolk Chamber of Commerce; Andrea Mayley, economic development manager for St Edmundsbury Borough Council; and Martyn Wagner, vice principal of business and student services at West Suffolk College.

They have been chosen for their business expertise and will meet next month to pore over the entries.

Jo Morgan, awards organiser, said, "As well as strong general business understanding, each of the judges brings their own specific business experience to the table, which should result in some very interesting debate."

"However, they have in common a genuine interest in the economic development of the Haverhill business community."

Ms Mayley is a member of the Royal Town Planning Institute who worked as a professional planner for more than 10 years before being appointed to St Edmundsbury Borough Council in 2002.

Lina Hogg joined the Suffolk Chamber of Commerce board in 2004 and has been president since 2006. She also sits on the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce board.

Mr Thompson is devoted to helping develop MENTA, which provides business advice to small organisations and those considering going into business.

Mr Wagner's role includes all the college's work with employers, business development and local learning centres, as well as marketing and student welfare.

The business awards are aimed at highlighting and celebrating the wealth and diversity of business expertise in Haverhill and surrounding areas. They will be presented at a special ceremony at Chilford Hall on May 17, with fundraising at the event in aid of the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

Entries and nominations can now be made for 12 categories, with a special Business of the Year Award selected from all entries. Entry to the awards is free and the deadline is Monday.

For entry forms or details about the awards dinner, contact Ms Morgan on (01638) 666147, or visit www.cb9businessawards.co.uk

Fair kick starts 'well youth' plan

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MEDITATION, exercise classes and fresh smoothies were on offer to young Haverhill residents at the launch of a scheme to improve their health and wellbeing.

A health fair was held at the Cangle Junction Foyer housing scheme for young people in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, to coincide with the launch of the Health Transitions programme, a six-week scheme targeted at young people.

There were wellbeing sessions, hair styling, tarot card readings, healthy eating tips, manicure sessions, massage and free exercise classes.

Cangle Junction was opened in 1999, at the former Victorian school building, by the English Churches Housing Group as a place for young people who may be at risk while they make the transition into adulthood.

It is one of a network of 100 "foyers" which provide accommodation linked to training, health and other services to around 10,000 young people a year.

The Foyer Federation, supported

■ BE WELL . . . Cangle Junction resident Heidi Wright tries a smoothie made by Isha Dia, of West Suffolk College, at the health fair.

orted by the National Lottery, has developed a three-year programme for disadvantaged young people, aged between 16-25, targeting healthy eating, physical activity and mental wellbeing.

Helga Bailey, support worker at Cangle Junction, said: "We want to empower young people to make an informed choice about healthy living.

"With the help of many external organisations and partnerships we will give young people the knowledge and skills to make that choice."

For more information, call (01440) 715427.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Colin Cox at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

At Paske Avenue between 6.30pm on Friday, March 21, and 8.25am the next morning, offenders broke into a white Ford Transit van parked in a driveway by smashing a window. They stole a satellite navigation system.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Cheryl Claydon at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Free bus travel extended a month

LOCAL bus passes set for renewal have been extended for an extra month.

The pass, issued by St Edmundsbury Borough Council, entitles anyone aged over 60 living in the borough, who meets disabled criteria, to travel free anywhere in Suffolk.

From the start of April, it will be replaced with a National Smartcard, allowing free bus travel on local buses anywhere in the country, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Pass holders are due to receive their new passes by Monday, but in case of delays, existing cards can still be used in Suffolk, but not outside of the county, until April 30.

■ 'THANKS' . . . Haverhill mayor Les Ager presents a certificate for Honorary Freedom of the Town of Haverhill to war veteran Cliff Reader.

Cliff collects special award

A CERTIFICATE of recognition was presented to 83-year-old veteran Cliff Reader, who did not receive one when other past armed services personnel did last autumn.

Cliff Reader, of North Avenue, Haverhill, was presented with his Honorary Freedom of the Town of Haverhill certificate by Haverhill mayor Les Ager at the town's arts centre.

Mr Reader, who served in the army for five years then served for 22 years as a volunteer firefighter in the town, was unwell when the earlier presentations were made to Haverhill veterans.

An exhibition entitled Haverhill: Then and Now on display at the arts centre's bistro, features a photograph of Mr Reader with other fire volunteers in the 1950s. He is the only survivor from the group.

Weekend cartoons for kids

YOUNGSTERS who want to try their hand at making cartoons can get some expert advice next week.

The 1st Floor Fine Art Gallery in Haverhill is offering children aged seven to 14 the chance to learn from professional artist Jon Adkin on Saturday, April 5.

To coincide with the French market, which will be held in Queens Street that weekend, the cartoon day will have a French theme.

Children will be able to enter their finished picture into a competition to find the best cartoon.

Hourly sessions will run from 10am to noon, and 1.30pm to 3.30pm, and cost £2. All materials will be provided.

Green funds to help cut carbon footprint

CASH is being offered to people who want to improve their local community and play an active role in tackling climate change.

The Suffolk Green Fund has been launched by Suffolk County Council with help from the East of England Development Agency (EEDA).

The three-year Cut Your Carbon campaign is aimed at helping local communities tackle climate change. Those taking part will be able to apply

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

for EEDA matched funding for innovative projects to cut carbon emissions.

Lucy Robinson, director for environment and transport at the council, said: "The council takes its environmental responsibilities very seriously.

"If we want to improve Suffolk's carbon footprint we need to work together.

"There are many steps that a community can take to respond to climate change, from local energy schemes, to community landscape projects, or promoting green tourism or banning plastic bags."

The Suffolk Green Fund will provide £100,000 in matched funding for winning communities.

The money will be available for both capital and revenue costs and can be used by groups to cover some of the set-up costs of developing their ideas.

Challenge on the air

A HAVERHILL student's expedition to Ecuador will be broadcast to millions of television viewers in July. Liam Plumridge, 17, of Beaufort Court, Haverhill, took part in the BBC2 programme Beyond Boundaries: Across The Andes, last year when he and a group of people with various disabilities had to conquer the challenge together. The programme will be shown at 9pm from Sunday, July 6, to Wednesday, July 9. Liam, who suffers from dyspraxia, which makes simple tasks like tying shoelaces more difficult, is also taking on another challenge with a sponsored wheelchair push up Ben Nevis later this year.

Alleyway robbery

A MAN handed over cash and his mobile phone after being threatened at knifepoint. The mugger threatened him with a knife and demanded money. The victim handed over cash and a mobile phone before the offender fled. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to DS Stuart Jeans at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100.

Dancers' call for help to achieve American dream

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

EXCITED young dancers are busy raising cash towards the trip of the lifetime to America next year, when they could perform with singer Justin Timberlake at Disneyland in California.

The 12 dancers, aged between 10 and 15, attend the Dells School of Dance in Haverhill and have to raise £13,000 to pay for the trip next Easter.

They have been invited to take part in a two-day competition to be televised in America, with a £5,000 cash prize up for grabs. The youngsters will dance with two television stars, one of them believed to be the popular singer. They will also work with professional choreographers and attend a huge dance show in San Francisco.

Katie Dell started the dance school two years ago and her students have already won lots of prizes. But she says the huge financial cost of the trip is beyond the school's finances and she is hoping businesses and others in the town will sponsor the youngsters.

Katie said: "When I look at this opportunity and what it opens up for the children – and the community of Haverhill to be participating in a world class event – I find it difficult not to try my hardest to ensure the team of 12 children get this opportunity. "A dance school in Suffolk has never taken on this event so sponsors will be going where no sponsors have gone before. We cannot do this on our own and the voice of a parent can be extremely powerful. "We can work together to give these children, who have worked so hard, the opportunity of a lifetime."

The school is already organising a big raffle and has been donated free use of an ice rink by the Co-op, which will be set up in Haverhill's Market Square. Sponsors would get their logos on all of the group's publicity material. Anyone who can help should ring Katie on 07874 877092.

STAR STRUCK... youngsters from the Dell School of Dance, Autumn Wulff, Zoe Evans, Chloe Dale, Abbey Jeffery and Nicole Alleyne, will be among the group heading to a dance competition in American next year.

Faces of helpers go up at hospital

A COLLAGE of faces is now on display at West Suffolk Hospital, catapulting once unsung hospital heroes who shy away from the limelight onto centre stage.

Sea of Faces is a collection of pictures of volunteers who regularly give up their time to help at the hospital.

Geraldine Debenham, voluntary services manager, said: "It's taken time to capture all our volunteers on camera.

"Although it's still not complete, this gives people an idea of the support we regularly receive from people from our local community who willingly give of their time to assist our patients, relatives, visitors and staff.

"This photographic display arouses considerable interest from people who enjoy trying to spot someone they know."

If anyone is interested in volunteering at the hospital, contact Geraldine (01284) 713206 for further information.

... Days Inn Haverhill manager Donna Revell and the damaged roof.

Top award for 'tornado' hotel

A YEAR after it opened – only to have a tornado rip off its roof – a Haverhill hotel has received a Hotel of the Year award.

The Days Inn Haverhill has received the award from Days Inn UK and it came in time to ensure a celebration on the venue's first anniversary.

The hotel's grand opening suffered a setback when gale force winds swept through the region and a tornado ripped off the new hotel's roof.

Days Inn Haverhill received the Hotel of the Year Award, after achieving the best score of nearly 50 Days Inns and Days Hotels in the UK and Ireland in the annual independent quality standards audit.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Belinda Atkins, senior brand director of Days Inn, said: "The award puts the hotel at the top of the ladder as the best run Days Inn in the group.

"It's an outstanding achievement and manager Donna Revell and her team are an inspiration for all our other Days Inns.

"It's rare for a newly-opened Days property to get the top award, but just what I expected from Donna. They really deserve this award."

The Days Inn is located in the Haverhill Business Park at the junction of the A1017 southern bypass and Bumpstead Road.

Action off the pitch hits play's audience for six

Outside Edge
Review: By Jo Deeks

AS ONE who views cricket as about as interesting as watching paint dry I had my doubts about a whole play devoted to the sport. However, I need not have worried as cricket is very much a secondary event in Centre Stage Company's Outside Edge by Richard Harris at Haverhill Arts Centre. Not a single cricket ball is struck, and the action on stage was far more lively than the average stint at the wicket. I had forgotten that this play was the basis for a successful television series a few years back and was somehow expecting a gentle farce around the genteel sport. In fact it is anything but, with a biting acidic wit which knocks its audience for six. The real action in the piece takes place off the pitch and in the pavilion and is far more about the women in the wings than the men at the stumps. It shatters stereotypes and rips through assumptions like an Aussie fast bowler. Enough cricket clichés and on to the nine excellent characters, which it was hard to know whether to love or loathe.

First to appear and in his own world by far the most important, was Roger, played to pedantic perfection by David Hart. The organiser with the little list and socks under his sandals who we have all crossed the road to avoid, he gives the impression that he does everything when in reality, it is his long-suffering wife who does most of it.

Sue Almond was born to play the part of Miriam, a complex mass of insecurity and keeping up appearances. Could anyone really put up with being told to "chop, chop" that many times?

Every one of the central characters rang true and challenged your initial reaction to them. Fenella Simmonds as Ginnie, the wronged wife who had romanced 12 and a half men, including her latest husband Bob, the apparent philandering drunk played by Alan Davidson. Jim Morgan as Dennis the flirt, whose unseen wife Shirley finally got her revenge. Suave Alex, played by Ashley Dyer, and his gorgeous, neglected girlfriend Sharon, Alison Hickford.

Star turns were the unconventional Maggie, a wonderful performance by Jane Baillie as the giant female brickie, and her adored little Kev, with Andy Parkhurst admirably enduring her endless bear hugs. I still find cricket boring, but this hilarious but intelligent romp was yet another triumph for Centre Stage and director Sue Webber, showing again the depth of talent within the group.

i10 is all positive experience

HERE is a specification which not many years ago would have cost a huge sum and would only have been found on luxury cars. It would have included aircon, auto transmission, remote locking, electric windows all round, four doors, ABS anti-skid plus electronic brake distribution, alloy wheels, all-round disc brakes heated front seats, electric sunroof, four airbags and six speakers. This remarkable package comes on the new Hyundai i10 for £7,895 on the road! Of course if you don't want to spend quite that much you can have the base model, which still comes with aircon, ABS and EBD, central locking and six speakers for a blinding £6,495. And between the top-of-the-range and the entry model there are two further choices, at £7,095 and £7,595.

All this would have been understandable if corners had been cut. But not a bit of it. The new i10 is well turned out and nicely finished. The only downside is that the 1.1-litre petrol engine, used throughout, sometimes thrums to keep up.

FIRST DRIVE

All-American changeover

RODNEY TIBBS

But Hyundai nails the opposition by offering a full five-year warranty. I half-expected that the automatic would be some kind of mickey mouse arrangement, but the auto box is completely grown up and uses the full range of hydraulics which have become standard on much bigger saloons. There is a fuel penalty of course, because in physics you seldom get something for nothing. In fact the auto version does 48.7mpg (combined) which is still a respectable figure. Move to the five-speed manual box however and two benefits become apparent. Firstly the fuel consumption improves to 56.5mpg and the emissions levels drop below the magic 120g/km giving an annual road tax of only £35 a year.

Inside the i10 has a well finished dashboard and ample room for passengers. At the rear the usual seat-folding arrangements offer a decent boot for everyday use and additional space with the seats folded for an occasional tricky load. As you would expect with a small car it is a little bouncy on rough surfaces but given average roads and average conditions it gets you there in reasonable comfort. With only 1.1-litres under the bonnet you won't get a heady surge of power and overtaking needs a little planning, but handling is light and positive and the car is always pleasant and fun to drive.

BASICALLY . . .

For sheer value for money and a very comprehensive list of equipment, the i10 sets new standards. If you're hesitating, bear in mind the five year full warranty and I am certain you will take the plunge.

Koreans plan UK advances

CAR makers from around the Pacific Rim are increasingly punching above their weight in the UK market, as demonstrated by sister Korean firms Kia and Hyundai.

And there's more to come, from South Korea's SsangYong and Malaysia's Proton.

These two marques haven't yet made it big in Britain, but that could all be about to change. SsangYong, in the showroom doldrums here for quite a while, has just relaunched itself, with better things planned for its Kyron, Rodius and Rexton models.

Proton, on the other hand, has been steadily achieving a greater market share thanks in part to street-smart superminis the Savvy and Satria Neo, and now brings a new saloon to these shores.

SsangYong's big selling point is that its Kyron SUV, Rodius 4x4 and Rexton people carrier models come with better equipment and more attractive prices than their main rivals, and there's now three years' free servicing on all of them.

For anyone not familiar with these South Korean motors, here's a brief insight:

■ Kyron – There are six of these highly capably SUVs on sale in the UK, and most of them use a 2.0-litre, turbo-charged diesel engine, and offer two or four-wheel drive.

They are here to compete with the Kia Sorento, Hyundai Santa Fe and Chevrolet Captiva, and are now priced from just £14,995.

For true off-road ability, there is a 2.7-litre diesel flagship Kyron, the SPR, a permanent 4x4 that wants for very little and costs £22,495.

■ Rexton – All three Rexton variants get the 2.7-litre turbo diesel for in-the-rough power and towing performance, together with permanent four-wheel drive and they're priced from £19,995 to £24,995.

The top-specification SPR, for example, gets every luxury, with the only options a rear roof spoiler and a Kenwood touch screen audio and navigation system.

■ Rodius – A people carrier that is unrivalled for space and equipment at the price, and there are four models, one of them a 4x4.

■ PROTON GEN-2 . . . helping the company's expansion into the British market.

No other seven-seater gets the generous luggage space the Rodius has, and all versions are again powered by that 2.7-litre diesel. Competitive pricing pitches them from £14,995 to £19,995.

Koelliker UK Ltd is the firm now importing SsangYong models, and one of the motoring world's livewires, Paul Williams is at the helm.

Proton, meanwhile, continues a slow but sure upward climb with the introduction of a new saloon model, the Gen-2 Persona.

This four-door saloon is based on Proton's popular five-door hatchback, and is powered by a 1.6-litre, 110bhp Lotus-engineered engine.

Its top speed is 118mph, and there's a choice of a five-speed manual gearbox or a four-speed automatic transmission.

Like the Gen-2 hatchback, the Persona saloon comes with a strong Lotus influence on exterior and interior styling.

The cabin colour is tempest grey, rear seats are split 60/40 and fold flat, with other kit including climate control with pollen filter, front and rear electric windows, and a Bluetooth radio/CD player with an MP3-capable CD player.

On the Persona's safety list is anti-lock braking, driver and passenger airbags, side impact protection bars, power steering and reverse distance sensors.

The Gen-2 Persona will be available in UK Proton dealerships from the end of March, together with a £1,000 opening discount.

Alfa bids to snatch Mini's crown

ALFA Romeo has Mini in its sights. The Italian prestige car maker has just unveiled the Mi.To, a direct rival in the sports-hatch stakes.

The first new car since the stunning 8C Competizione, the Mi.To obviously shares the current stunning design language of the high-tech supercar. The prominent Alfa grille is present as always and the lines from it, running the entire length of the car, have their roots deeply set in Alfa Romeo's history

Small cars from Alfa Romeo haven't always sold in huge numbers but they have always been excellent models, with sharp handling and superb engines. The turbo petrol and diesel units will produce between 90 and 155bhp in various guises with the range set to be extended by higher performance versions after its initial release. Expect a GTA version at least which will certainly out muscle the Mini Cooper S.

The compact Alfa will have a high quality interior, solidly put together with excellent materials while, under the skin, Alfa Romeo's DNA vehicle dynamics system will allow drivers to set the car up to either normal, all weather or sports driving styles, a first for this size of car.

The Mi.To will be launched in the UK early next year and, looking at all the factors including performance, size and potential handling ability, it seems very possible that Mini could meet its match.

MOTORING

Infiniti's FX37 Crossover SUV

INFINITI has announced that the dramatic V8-powered Infiniti FX50, revealed at the Geneva Motor Show, will be joined at launch by a V6 version with 316bhp to be called FX37.

The FX37 will be entering a new and rapidly expanding Crossover SUV market with entries from BMW and Volvo set for release later this year. The blend of coupe looks with SUV practicality is likely to appeal to prestige car buyers and Infiniti's FX37 will be a competitive entry level model.

■ V6 POWER... for the striking Infiniti FX37.

It will go on sale together with the G37 Saloon, G37 Coupe, EX37 and FX50 starting from October 2008 when Infiniti makes its first entry into Europe.

'Top Gear' team due at MPH '08

FANS of the BBC's hugely entertaining Top Gear show are in for a massive treat later this year following news that MPH, the annual prestige and performance motoring event, will now feature a live version of the TV programme, fronted by Jeremy Clarkson.

Thousands of enthusiasts can expect to enjoy many of the elements of the award-winning TV show – including a guest appearance by The Stig – brought to life when Top Gear Live is launched at London's Earls Court on October 30 before moving to Birmingham's NEC in November.

For five years, MPH has pioneered a new style of motor show by combining live action motoring entertainment with an original formula of showcasing exotic cars.

Tickets for the London and Birmingham MPH 08 shows featuring Top Gear Live (October 30-November 2 and November 13-16) go on sale in June, priced from £36.

TENNIS

■ ANYONE FOR TENNIS . . . Some of the youngsters, who took part in the Haverhill tournaments, proudly show their medals and certificates. They are, back row, left to right, Elspeth Harrison, Clementine Walsh, Katie Webb and Ellie Coleman. Front row: Louis Barthorpe, Freddie Holmes, Angus Parsons, Greg Coston and Josh Self.

CP.

Coleman is a mini-marvel with final win

HAVERHILL Tennis Club held two mini tennis tournaments over the past two weekends as part of Tennis East's LTA sanctioned events circuit.

The first was a Green Mini Tennis Event for children born in 1998 or 1999.

Players from Newmarket, Haverhill, Cambridge and Norwich took part in a successful day.

Dean Turton, Lauren Osborn and Edward Curtis were playing in their first tournaments and performed well against the more experienced players.

Sebastian Woods played some great tennis all afternoon, beating Joshua Self in one semi-final 7-1, 7-2, while, in the other, Ben Coleman beat Benjamin Fuller 7-4, 7-3.

Coleman proved too strong for Woods in the final, winning two sets to love.

Self, who played with great spirit all afternoon, beat Fuller for third place.

The second Orange event was for children born 2001, 2000 or 1999.

Fifteen children took part, with Andreas Kitsis competing in his first tournament after only a few months of practice.

In the girls' competition, Katie Webb and Clementine Walsh played in one semi-final and Elspeth Harrison and Ellie Coleman in the other.

In two closely-fought matches Harrison and Webb won through to the final.

In a reverse score of an earlier encounter, Harrison emerged triumphant.

Meanwhile, Coleman overcame Walsh in the third place play-off.

The boys' semi-finals saw Angus Parsons narrowly beat Greg Coston 8-6 and Freddie Holmes defeat Louis Barthorpe, who was making his first appearance in the last four of a tournament.

Parsons proved too strong for Holmes in the final, making it two wins at Haverhill for the player.

All the matches over the two days were umpired by volunteers from the Haverhill club, including Sarah Barthorpe, Rachel and Wendy Jeffs, Tom Lord, Emma Hardwick and Fiona Walsh.

Soaring Hawks win in France

HUNDON Hawks under 15s enjoyed a hard-earned 4-1 victory over Grandvillars on a visit to north-eastern France. Playing on an astrotruf pitch which encouraged good football, Hawks were rocked by the quality of their French opponents whose passing and movement kept them penned in their own half for long periods in the game. And they went behind to a penalty after eight minutes. Hawks were kept afloat by solid defensive performances by Todd Martin and Harry Middleditch, but gradually got to grips with the surface and strong wind in their faces and goals from Lee Garner and Lewis Brown put them in front before half-time.

■ SMART TURN-OUT . . . members of the Hundon Hawks' U15 squad in their new FC Sochaux strip. CP.

The start of the second half saw Hawks play their best football and further goals from Ben Robinson and Garner again ensured they could cruise to victory. The match was part of a tour organised to celebrate the team's promotion last year. As well as the match, the 17 boys and seven accompanying adults also had the opportunity to visit the much-heralded football academy of French Premier League Club FC Sochaux, where they were also able to have a full training session on their full size indoor pitch. The tour party also enjoyed watching an exciting French Premier League game between Sochaux and Champions League-chasing ASF Nancy, which finished 1-1. They travelled to the match in the FC Sochaux first-team coach.

Hunt spot on as Rovers crumble

CARETAKER player-manager Marcus Hunt slotted in a consolation penalty for Haverhill Rovers, but that was of little comfort as they suffered a 5-1 mauling at Wisbech in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division, on Saturday.

The hosts opened the scoring after 18 minutes when Marc Abbott miscued a clearance to let in Fenmen's Mark Jimson, who knocked the ball forward and then headed it himself over Rovers goalkeeper Jamie Smith.

The lead was doubled two minutes into first half injury time when Stuart Cobb came in to a Jason Pease corner and side-footed the ball through a crowd of players.

And things went from bad to worse for the visitors two minutes into the second half and Wisbech were went 3-0 up, when again the Haverhill backline failed to react as keeper Smith was only able to palm a short lob by Cobb away from goal to the feet of Jimson, who scored his second of the day.

Wisbech then went into overdrive with two more in the space of four minutes.

The fourth goal came in the 52nd minute with the Haverhill defence too far forward, William Smith breaking from just inside his own half before calmly score.

And the game was well and truly gone on 56 minutes when Wisbech caught Rovers out again at the back when Darren Edey netted at the near post.

The consolation goal for Haverhill came three minutes into added time, home defender

Lewis Cook going through Rovers' substitute Lee Sharp from behind in the penalty area and Hunt, who is also the Haverhill captain, scored from 12 yards.

Rovers are now ninth in the table ahead of tomorrow evening's home clash with relegation-threatened Ipswich Wanderers.

In the meantime, Haverhill chairman Steve Brown will step up the search for a new Haverhill manager, which he hopes to have sorted before the end of the season.

The Rovers supremo is keen to get the vacancy left by Steve Taylor's departure filled as quickly as possible.

Brown said: "We'd like to get someone in before the end of the season so they can get to know the players and prepare for next season and take the pressure off Marcus. But we're not going to rush anything."

■ Anyone interested in applying

■ SCORER . . . Marcus Hunt, who netted Rovers' consolation penalty.

for the post at Hamlet Croft should contact chairman Steve Brown on 07929 882645.

■ Rovers' scheduled Easter Monday local derby clash with Newmarket Town at Hamlet Croft fell victim to the bad weather.
